

Allow it! The potential benefits to education and medicine alone warrant allowing it, not to mention the economic boost it will provide. Get out of the way! Not allowing it NOW would be like living in the time of gas lighting, and trying to decide if electricity should be allowed.